Mother Nature Ready To End 'Spring Fever'

brief spring fling is expected to end in snow flurries tonight, but only after the winter's heavy snow pack has been virtually decimated.

The mercury touched 54 degrees Wednesday, which was the highest reading since last Oct. 29 at the farm of Herb Teichman, Eau Claire grower - weather observer.

According to Teichman, the warmer air that moved into the area. Tuesday reduced the average snow cover on the ground this morning to one inch. He estimated that about one-half of the ground surface was free of snow this morning As of Tuesday, the snow pack on the ground was 10 inches deep, Teichman said. He noted that the ground has been covered continuously with snow since last Nov. 29.

No flooding has been reported with the recent rain and melting snow, but numerous streets have large puddles.
Tonight's forecast calls for rain showers changing to snow flurries with lows in the upper 20's to low 30's. Friday's forecast calls for widely scattered snow flurries or rain showers, with highs in the upper 30's to low 40's.

Across the nation, rain brought the threat of flooding to snow-laden western New York and the promise of water to thirsty southern California, but officials said only the bad news was for real.

In the Buffalo, N.Y., area today, the National Weather Service issued a flash flood watch, based on the threat of ice jams. The service said six streams were on the brink of overflowing.

The Army Corps of Engineers shipped sandbags to riverfront areas in Erie. Chautaqua, Genesee, Niagara and Orleans counties and said bulldozers would be available to deal with ice in shallow water.

The weather service said melting snow - up to 25 inches left from this winter's record snowfall — could add the equivalent of seven inches of rain to any downpour in warm weather.

The light rain that teased drought-stricken areas of California — about two-tenths of an inch in Los Angeles — was more welcome but less consequential, officials said.

National Weather Service forecaster Bill Hackle said that while the Pacific storm that came in Wednesday normally would be followed by others, a high-pressure system was developing that probably would block them off.

From all indications, this is just about it," Hackle said,
"There's no rain in the three-day outlook" after today.

Today Is 'Doomsday' Star Gazers Claim

LONDON (AP) - British astrologers are warning fellow star gazers to keep a low profile, avoid doing business or, better yet, stay home today.

"Today is doomsday. Or might be," Paul Callan wrote in the Daily Mirror. "It could be the world's worst day for 25 years." The astrologers say the reason for their horoscome gloom is the "bad aspect" of Uranus Saturn and Mars. They say this clash could set off a train of disasters for years to come.

Astrologer Charles Harvey said the three planets get into their present state once in 20 to 25 years. The uncommon conjunction causes tension and people tend to act more impulsively than usual, he said. So don't take risks, he added. "If I were a businessman I'd postpone any meeting or decision planned for Feb. 24." said another astrologer, Peter J. Clark.

There could be earthquakes, accidents, extreme weather," said astrologer June Penn. Some suggest the safest thing to do is stay at home and hope for the best. Others contend it's no good ducking the trouble because the effects will drag on for a long

Nothing untoward may happen today, but don't be misled. It's a significant date, say the astrologers. They recall the same planetary influences were prevalent in January 1931 when Adolf Hitler was telling his followers to stand behind him. Two years later was in charge of Germany and on the

Carter Opens Money Spigot Couple Of Turns

Carter would loosen up on a 1978 budget Jerry Ford sent to Congress in his expiring days as President.

The only guessing was by how much and in what form.

Ford had proposed a $440 billion budget for fiscal 1978 which begins this October 1st and which would create an ; estimated $46 billion deficit.

Carter's revision raises those figures 46 $459 and nearly $58 billions respec-

Frightening as those increases may be, there is the further chilling prospect that the spend happy Democratic majority in Congress may add to Carter's red ink proposal.

Carter's budget does not cancel the Ford projection. It simply turns a few degrees leftward for the upcoming fiscal year and signals a further move in that respect for fiscal 1979.
- Ford's budget called for giving the Defense Department a quarter of the total spending, squeezing down on the government's vast array of welfare and federal aid programs, and a tax cut of $10 billion

-Carter threads his way through that path in this manner.

Defense is reduced a shade over three per cent, almost entirely in cer-tain hardware the Army, Navy and Air-Force want to buy. The weaponry is not eliminated, but its quantity is cut

The implication, however, is clear that Carter will try in the 1979 budget to move closer to his campaign argument the military could be sliced $5 to $7 billion annually at no hazard to the national defense. This argument

Listening Can Be An Art

A university professor predicts that employers eventually will place as much value on a job applicant's ability to listen as on his talents, in other directions.

Many people, it is true, are prey to what Shakespeare called "the disease of not listening." The simplest cure for that is for the other fellow to stop talking.

For we suspect that the good listener is held in highest esteem not by the man who has something to say but by the bore who, like the Ancient Mariner, holds us with his glittering eye until we cannot choose but hear.

If, as the professor says, listening is as important to the learning process as reading, it is infinitely more important

He eliminates Ford's specific tax cut for a yet to be described tax reduction of his own dimension. Loosely drawn statements thus far the White House indicate Carter favors higher exemptions and deductions in the low and middle tax brackets.

The spending increase goes to those Departments, Agriculture, Com-merce, HEW, HUD and Labor which specialize in sending out money from Washington to the hinterland for food stamps, medical care, education, welfare, housing subsidies and public works projects.

Carter does pull in a few strings on Dependency benefits under Social Security will be limited in an effort to restore the system to some semblance of solvency.

Work on a score of dams and water reclamation projects in the plains and western states already has been suspended. This is a sop to the environmentalists as much as it is a money proposal has Democratic Congressmen from those states up in arms and to save his budget Carter may have to back off from that stance. Another pinch by Carter is in health

His budget calls for limiting the annual inflationary increase in the medicare and medicaid programs to nine per cent. A hospital's bills may jump at a 12 per cent rate but under the Carter formula HEW will only reimburse it up to nine per cent.

Health care suppliers already are bombarding their Representatives and Senators with outraged messages they have been losing money on their medicare-medicaid trade for several years; now, Carter plans to send them further down the drain.

The inflationary vision in Carter's budget is, in that overworked phrase,.

Uncle Sam will have to go to the money market to cover the deficit and that promised for 1979.

Michael Blumenthal, the Treasury Secretary, calls the vision out of focus: that interest rates and prices will not begin moving onward and upward.

Mike performed brilliantly as president of the Bendix Corporation and we have a feeling if he were still at the company's executive suite he might express a different opinion.

We hope for the reader's sake the months ahead prove Jimmy correct and us wrong, but that's the best we can see for his arithmetic.

Current estimates by the Carter administration are that the United States will import $40 billion worth of oil in 1977, up about 20 per cent from last year. There are many who would argue even the 840 billion estimate is too

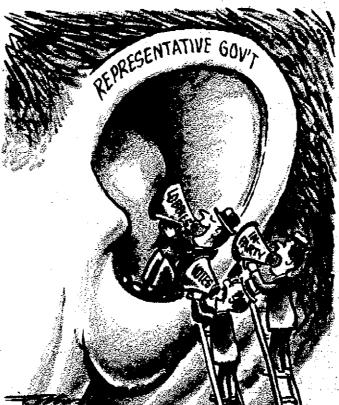

Not only has more oil been consumed because of the record cold wave, but contributing to its usage are conversions by factories and other buildings from natural gas. How many of these will reconvert later remains a question.

Further, because of the widespread drought in western states which rely heavily upon waterpower for electric output, widespread conversion to oil in those states also may be coming. It is lack of gas which produced the shortages this winter. But it is the growing dependence upon imported oil which causes concern for the future.

The man who was killed had a record for the same offense and if our courts were more efficient, he probably would have been in jail at the time, rather than killed committing the same crime again.

This is yet another example of punishing the victim of a

OUR COUNTRY NEFUS ROOTS

Today is the 21st of February and the government says it is Washington's birthday but you and I know that the 22nd is his birthday. Next year, it will be the 27th of February. The Congress lost respect for the father of our country when they changed his birthday so they and others could have a threeday holiday. When they become that selfish it is no wonder that young people have such little respect for their elders.

What happened to our roots: our country needs roots, our families need roots, every person needs roots. It is hard on children to find and keep their roots when so many of them come from broken homes. Prople that wire lucky enough to be born on Washington's birthday have been very proud. Now it is a thing of the past. We had better start looking for some strong roots to hold on to or we all will go over the falls.

Fun And Games From Public Till

WASHINGTON - Forget all those helpful magazine stories about how to pul together a successful but inexpensive home party to entertain your friends and business associates. The Defense Department can show you how to be a fabulous host at nu personal expense.

The Pentagon's secret: Invite leading members of Congress and Defense officials to a cocktail or dinner party at your Georgetown home, then bill the nation's taxpayers for the cost of food and drinks.

John M. Maury, the depart-ment's chief liaison officer with the House and Senate from April 1974 through March 1976, thinks there's nothing wrong with that practice as long as it relates to government business.

Previously secret documents we have obtained show Maury threw a number of taxpayer-financed parties at his house during his two years in office. In March 1975, he offered cocktails and a buffet to approximately 40 VIPs in order to "promote working relations between officials of the Department of Defense and members of Congress and their staffs."

The food cost $47, the "potables" 838 and the service $70, atl of it paid by the Treasury. The amount isn't much (the total bill was just under $155) but that was only one of countless instances in which the Defense Department has used hundreds of thousands of dollars in public funds to lavish special attention on members of Congress. In fact, less than a week after that party, Maury hosted an "official dinner" at his home.

The guests of honor were a visiting Greek citizen and two of the members of the House most interested in Greek affairs, Reps. John Brademas, D-Ind., and Paul S. Sarbanes, D-Md.

The congressmen, their wives and eight others at the select party consumed $72 worth of food and $36 in "potables." Another $75 for service brought the total bill to $183 — all of it paid by the federal treasury When Maury was about to re-tire one year later, he wanted to Pentagon officials and key legislators. So he out together a reception" at his house and invited Donald H. Rumsfeld

Byrd Jr., Independent-Va., as well as Reps. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., and J. Kenneth Robinsson, R-Va. The bill was $285, paid by the government treasury. After the Scripps-Howard

Newspapers last summer ran an extensive series of stories citing other examples of how the Pentagon wines, dines and pampers legislaters with "black bag funds," Defense officials promised to tighten their regulations to prohibit misuse of public lands. But as late as this month. Army Col. Stephen Harrick, an alde to the current Assistant Secretary of Defense for Legislative Affairs, said government-paid parties such as those thrown at Maury's house are "probably routine."

No other department or agency of the federal government expends as much time, money or manpower as does the Pentagon in its continuous campaign to subtly influence the legislators who must vote in the department's programs and budget requests. Most members of the President's cabinet reportedly have small "slush funds," for low-key entertaining, built into their budgets. But those com-

The central symbols of Winter Carnival have always been snow sculpture, parties, and winter sports, but over the years the atmosphere has varied and the famous weekend has proved to be a fascinating social parometer.

When Scott Fitzgerald and Budd Schulberg arrived in Hanaver in 1918 to do the script for a Hollywood movie based upon Carnival, the pre-World War II version had reached its apogee. The atmosphere was one of romance and elegance: formal dances, engraved invitations, skiing at night by torch-light, sleigh rides, champagne

When I arrived at Dartmouth a couple of years after World War II, a considerable attrition had taken place in terms of style, Indeed, a division had opened up which I found repellent and somewhat puritanism had raised its unattractive head. The Great War Against Fascism had ushered in the Century of the Common Man, and a sizable number of students in the years 1947-52 seemed to be trying to be Common Men.

On the one hand, Carnival suffered from giganticism. Out-

During the 1960s, puritanism achieved an almost total victory. The good time became a sort of moral crime. This was not the thick-witted Common Manism of the late 1940s and early 1950s, but a genuinely eli-tist paritanism. People tried to prove their superior spirituality by booking unattractive, being unhappy. A sullen murk seemed pervasivé. This year the mout at Car-

Special Education Transfer Poses SJ Teacher Dilemma

Staff Writer
Up to 15 teachers in the St. district could face layoffs, if special education teachers with higher seniority at Lake View Gard school decline transfers to the Berrien intermediate school district, St. Joseph Schools Supt. Burton R. Aldrich told The Herald-Palladium.

Aldrich said any layoffs or "pink slipping" would be to enable special education teachers to be reassigned to regular classes in the district. He said they are certified for elementary and junior high level classes and could "bump' teachers with less seniority.

The special education teachers will be offered the chance to transfer to the Inter-mediate district, but the salaries there average about $1,300 a year less than in the St. Joseph district.
Aldrich, said the problem stems from the transfer of special education programs to the county and also from provisions of the St. Joseph teachers' master contract.

Following a state order, the St. Joseph board of education last week voted to transfer the Lake View Gard building and its program for trainable mentally impaired youngsters to the in-termediate school district. Also transferred to the county was the Bellwether program for emotionally disturbed children. Aldrich said 20 teachers are involved in these programs, of whom 15 have high seniority

Aldrich said while the Berrien intermediate district has paid all expenses for these special education programs, including salaries, the teachers involved are members of the St. Joseph Education association.

They are covered by the master contract for St. Joseph teachers, which provides higher salaries than the Berrien Intermediate Schools Education as sociation provides under Aldrich and Berrien Intermediate School Supt. Raymond Sreboth said that under law, the intermediate district must offer the special education teachers jobs with the county next year.

Sreboth said the average pay scale for intermediate school district teachers is about $1,300 lower than in the St. Joseph Sreboth did not say when job offers would be tendered for-mally to the special education teachers from Gard and Bellwether. Aldrich said his board would have to act on "pink slipping" by the fourth week of served that special education teachers find their work rewarding, and may be willing to make the transfer. Aldrich however, observed that the in-come difference booms as a factor, along with driving from St. Joseph homes to Berrien Springs.

The Berrien county intermediate district soon will begin construction on a new $2.7 million building at Berrien Springs that will house special education programs now con-ducted at Lake View Gard and Aldrich said if all the special education teachers remained in St. Joseph, the cost to the dis-trict would be about $120,000, according to figures compiled by District Business Manager Dennis Percy. Aldrich said this includes $33,000 the special education teachers would

The Lake View Gard building was acquired by the St. Joseph district in 1967 from Christ Lutheran church for $240,000. The intermediate district reimbursed the sale price to the St. Joseph district and since has paid all expenses. Aldrich said the original agreement was made at a time when the inter-mediate district could not operate its own special education programs. It could sponsor and finance them, but local dis-tricts were operating agencies. Aldrich said that law has been changed and intermediate dis tricts may now operate their own programs

Aldrich said that aside from the transfer matter, no further "pink slipping" has been an ticipated for next year, Aldrich said student enrollment is ex-pected to decline, but any faculty reductions probably would be through attrition. This includes normal retirements

Treat Your Feet To Slipper Socks

NEW YORK (NEA) - A bleeding ulcer, that's what Brian Grood got from his last

"I landed in the hospital in 1974 because I'm very intense about what I do and I was working 24 hours a day on a na-tional photographic exhibition project," he says.

Seven days after he got out, a friend said, come with me to Afghanistan.
And Grood, a short, darkly

Actually it wasn't the sport itself but the socks the players wear to keep warm which Grood s:fw being sold in the streets. Uniquely designed — never two alike — varying colors. Groud and his friend looked at each other and decided to enter the sock import business.

They went from village to village buying socks and last October, opened a store called Bu2kashi in Manhattan's East 250s; lining its walls with perhaps 15,000 pairs. Selling for $12 a pair, the knee high and over sacks began to intrigue passersby and those across the country who saw Grond's ads in The New Yorker and Andy Warhol's Interview magazines.

Reartened, Grood returned to Kabul to open a "kuittery" for the production of slipper socks heavier, more expensive at s30 a pair and, he says, "the greatest after-ski slipper."

'We rented a 20-room def hotel, cleaned it up and supplied it with earpets and enshions. Then we hired a chef and nerhaps 100 women who come every day to knit our slipper socks. At 12:30 or 1:00, they come downstairs and bave a delicious meal prepared for them and they have but and cold tea all day.

But the colors which can number ten in a pair are very much dependent on one thing: the sweater the knitter is working with. Yes, sweater.

"Every one of these socks is a sweater that was made in Europe or here and was sold to importers in Afghanistan. he explains, "A woman will buy to wear and one to unravel and knit into socks.

She uses five or six spike-like needles and first, "she makes the foot of the sock as a flat piece and ends it off. Then, employing four needles coming up the ankle in a square, she uses a fifth needle to knit with. She changes the yarn as she synthetic or a blend, according to the constitution of the sweater. This year, however, Groud will stop buying sweaters for his people to unrayed and start purchasing yarns directly from spinners in England, Aus-Australia and New Zealand

He'll also produce mittens, scarves and "thigh high socks to go with the Kenzu mini look." Whatever the height, the socks will still lack clustic at the ton "because they don't have elastic in Afghanistan." What the knitters do instead is provide strings at the top that wrap around for support. "We thought they were charming so we kept them," he says.

Eventually, better depart-ment stores all over will be carrying his slipper socks which will retail for $45, he says, adding that the price is not exerwords: 'Our age is an age where great progress has been made. It is also an age where the suffering of people, suffering in body and soul, has increased. World Day of Prayer is challenging us to discover afresh those who may be our neighbors we have been overlooking; to discover those who may be far away and in need of our support.

"The small group of women who first initiated World Day of Prayer in 1887 firmly believed that the mission work for which they were responsible needed their support in prayer as much as in giving. Church Women United has continued this tradition through Intercontinental Mission, a fund for administering the nationwide offerings received on World Day of Prayer.

This year church women will translate love into action through grants made to meet the needs of people in the six continents in the following areas: spiritual growth, community and family services, socio-economic development, education, health programs, human rights, justice, peace building, women's concerns, and hunger in the United States and globally, "Annual grants have enabled nine women's Christian colleges in Asia to pioneer in education for women helping them to develop their full potential and prepare them for national and international responsibilities. "Intercon-tinental Mission grants have enabled Church Women United to touch lives of women and children through books and magazines related to the reali-ties of their lives; migrants seeking a more human life for themselves and their children; international students in the United States who are preparing for service in their own countries and in the world community; women in international study programs; persons seeking re-creation and renewal through A Christian Ministry in the National Parks; persons faced with disaster, needing immediate relief and long-term rehabilitation

"This year's celebration of World Day of Prayer will prepare the women for fuller participation in the CWU commenced assembly to be held at Purdue university. West Lafayette, Ind., July 7-10. As the women focus on the ways they can express their Christian 'Love in Action,' they will be clarifying their values as Christian women to focus on the theme of the triennial assembly

Wet Days

NEW YORK - (NEA) - On a stormy day in March, you may witness the following.

Affractive young woman in gold metallic poncho, matching rainhat and umbrella, moves briskly down the street. Passing a bank, she notices attractive young executive cowering under his attache case in the doorway.

She stops, unbuttons one side of her poncho and says, "Want a lift?"

There is no way for this to happen before March because the poncho and all the other regalia manufactured by Muspo, the umbretta people, won't be in the stores until then.

And we feel compelled to point out that should the young man accept the lift, one of his arms will still get wet. The poncho-for-two covers shoulders, but only three arms.

Still, the concept is revolutionary. So was the decision for Mespo, a division of Knirps, to tackle more than umbrellas which it has been making for 100 years. Founded in Austria; the firm moved to New York In George Meissner, Mespo's president, says, "This rain-and-shine wear is meant to bring new life to the main fluor umbrella department. You have to try for new customers, the young generation that loves sports and vacation.

So the company decided to produce baseball jackets, ponchos, tote bags, hats and, of course, matching unitrellus, all retalling from $15-35 and available in cotton poplin, nylon cire (which means it has a shiny sticker finish) or nylon metallic

This last consists of gold and silver and is Mespo's contribution to the fashion current mania for the look of precious metals.

All the garments, Meissner stresses, are meant for all weather and all manner of wear.

"The customer, young or old, puts on a cap. a poncho or a jacket and goes boating or bicycling or to the tennis

She chooses the item in small. medium or large, and if she chooses the nylon cire Magic Travel Jacket which sells for $16 in assorted colors, she can stuff it — into its own pouch pocket. The pouch then zips shut to form a square she can then stuff into her matching tote

RAIN PROTECTION: Hooded baseball jacket (above) zips up the front and over pull-on pants that sport working pockets at the thigh. Pull-on poncho (below) protection for one or two strikes a light note in rainwear. The roomy shape has a drawstring tic at the neck and a hood that adjusts to size with its own tie. The snap slit at one side opens to free the hand or protect another body.

Chrysler Joining Move To Small Cars

Associated Press Writer DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says it will go the route of General-Motors and Ford by replacing its full-size cars with smaller models in the 1979-model year to meet tougher federal fuel economy laws.

The No. 3 automaker disclosed Wednesday it will drop some, and possibly all, of its big Plymouth and Dodge models at the end of the 1977-model run this summer.

The firm also said — at its unveiling of two new "small" mid-size cars — that the present intermediate Plymouth Fury and Dodge Monaco would be DETROIT (AP) - Domestic DETROIT (AP) — Domestic new car sales in mid-February, slowed by lost production caused by winter energy shor-tages, slipped 7.5 per cent from the same year-ago period, the industry reported Wednesday.

Only Ford Motor Co., with a modest 2.5 per cent gain, was able to improve on its perfor-mance in the Feb. 11-20 period. General Motors Corp. sales were off 8 per cent, Chrysler Corp. 27 per cent and American Motors Corp. 36 per cent. Total sales were 192,077 cars, compared with 233,701 a year ago. The percentage declines are based on the daily selling rate because there was one less selling day in the latest period.

Industry analysts said they could not explain why Ford sales were up but GM's were off for the period.

Chrysler has been hurt this year by softening sales of com-pact cars — the company's forte. The company also says it has been hurt by the severe winter weather in the Northeast, where Chrysler's market penetration is strongest. Small-car specialist AMC has without a jury was surprising since only hours earlier, Peter-son accepted a defense motion burring reporters and the public from sessions scheduled to pick the jurors.

There was no immediate explanation from court officials or attorneys in the case to show why the change was made.

In another decision Wednes-day, Peterson ruled that tes-timony about herd conditions before and after the 1973 contamination may be given by nonexpert witnesses such as

But the judge said that tes-timony cannot refer to scientific matters, like laboratory tests showing the amount of PBB found in various animals.

With the need to choose jurors eliminated, the first witnesses emminated, the first witnesses are expected to testify Monday. The judge's secretary said Thursday's and Friday's court session are needed to hear more pretrial motions.

Since court action on the case began Tuesday, lawyers have been presenting a variety of motions to Judge Peterson.

Peterson also decided to allow testimony about herd conditions before and after the 1973 contame 3: '39:5 8 944'1 '118 tame,3; 39;5 8,9471.718

Flood Disaster Scars Linger On

Associated Press Writer

LOGAN, W.Va. (AP) — Dr. J. Church has been receiving some sad but predictable phone calls, pleas for help from people who've looked at the calendar and seen a wall of dark water rushing toward them

'I can always tell when we're getting near another anniver-' Church said recently. The calls start coming in. It happens every year about this time. I got calls last week from time. I got calls last week from two men I hadn't talked with in egght months.

A psychologist at the Logan-Mingo Community Mental Bealth Clinic, he has worked with the survivors of the Buffalo Greek disaster for the past five Sears. In that time, Church has dealt with people who not only inderwent the horrors of the flood but who later were tormented by fear and were torn by guilt for having survived while friends and loved ones were swept away. 2"However, this so-called 'sur-vivor syndrome' has been pretty well resolved, 'he said. "Most of the people we've seen here have been able to go back to their precrisis ability to cope.

But, he adds, the healing period not only has been terrible slow, it also has been accompanied, in many cases, by a chain of painful events. The fa-teful wave loosed when the Pittston Co.'s coal waste dam collapsed the morning of Feb 26. 1972 - claiming 125 lives along Buffalo Creek and causing more than $50 million in damages — was followed by a wave of alcoholism, divorce and other generally destructive

There were plenty of people who for a long time refused to step outside when it was raining," said Church. "We had accidents. People would be driving along and suddenly their car would be off the road and into a ditch or up against a

Baroda Approves Donations

BARODA — In a continuation of the Monday night meeting recessed because of the late hour, the Baroda township board last night approved $750 in appropriations for local or-ganizations.

The Baroda American Legion was voted $100 for Memorial Day activities; $150 was approved for the Baroda fire department for a July 4 celebration; $300 was appropriated for the Baroda float and queen's committee for the Blossom Festival; and the Lakeshore Youth Baseball association was granted $200.

In granting the baseball appropriation, the board said it wants to insure that all youngsters participating in the program get a chance to play, no just those who are most no just those who are most likely to win games. Board members agreed that the ac-tivity and training provided by the program are of more value to children then winning a lot of to children than winning a lot of games. The board also said the baseball association will be urged to purchase equipment locally.

Baroda township has a balance on hand of $36,188 with the Berrien county road com-mission as of Dec. 31, it was announced. One project for 1977 will be the paving of Linco road between the Baroda-Stevens-ville road and Cleveland avenue. The cost of the project was not reported.

In other action, the board decided to resell the 92 of an aere at the corner of Cleveland and Browntown roads which it voted Monday to purchase from the state department of natural resources for $1. The township will sell the land for $1 plus back taxes, the amount of which is not yet known. No decision was made on the manner or time of sale.

The board voted to allow the deputy treasurer to sign checks. The action was prompted by the illness of township treasurer, Donald Gast.

Purchase of a 44 by 120-foot conference table was approved. The table will be bought from Michigan State Industries, Jackson, for $205

U.S. Indicts Former Lawman

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Twelve days after U.S. Atty. Gen Griffin Bell ordered an investigation into the shotgun murder of a Mexican-American construction worker on a deserted country road, a former Texas marshal has been indicted for violating the victim's civil rights. Frank Hayes, 53, who was marshal in Cas troville, is serving a 2-to-10 year sentence for aggravated assault in the case. A U.S. grand jury in San Antonio returned a two-count civil rights indictment Wednesday against Hayes, his wife, Dorothy, and his sister-in-law, Alice Baldwin. The indictment said Hayes, by shooting Richard Morales to death with a shofgun on 1975, violated Morales' constitutional right not to be deprived of liberty without due process. The women were named as accessories after the fact because they transported Morales' body 400 miles and buried it near Carthage in east Texas.

Canal Talks Progress

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) - The 15th round of negotiations in three years for a new Panama Canal treaty has ended with American negotiators reporting "some progress." Panama said the two weeks of talks had been "useful." Ambassador Elisworth Bunker and Sol Linowitz returned to Washington Wednesday to consult with Secretary of State Cyrus Vance. They are expected back in about three weeks. Informed sources said progress was made on the issue of lands and waters - how much of the 553 square-mile canal zone will remain under U.S. control under the new treaty and how much Panama will take over as soon as the treaty is signed. The sources said the key unsolved problems are when U.S. control of the canal will end and how the waterway will

Kidney Donation Arrives From Russia With Love

NEW YORK (AP) — In an episode that ductors dubbed "From Russia With Love," a 32-year-old Brooklyn construction worker has received a new kidney only 48 hours after its original owner, a 16-year-old youth, died in an automobile accident in Moscow.

This is indeed a testament to the brotherhood of man," said Dr. William Stubenbod, the surgeon who performed the kidney transplant on Jose Serrane at the New York Hospi-tal-Cornell Medical Center.

Dr. Albert Rubin, who earlier had made the informal arran-gement with a Soviet physician that led to the trans-Atlantic transplant, said it came about because Russia's "brain death" law makes organs more readily

Dr. Rubin said he learned during, a trip to Moscow that organ procurement was "more advanced" there, and last Sep-tember arranged with Dr. Valery Schumakov of Moscow's Institute of Organ and Tissue Transplant to try the trans-Atlantic operation.

He said an estimated 50,000 persons in this country are receiving dialysis machine treatment while waiting for kidneys to become available for three weeks ago failed because the kidney from Moscow arrived

Then last Saturday when the young man was killed in Mos-cow, his body was brought to the institute and his kidneys removed. One was transplanted into'a Russian patient, and the other put in a refrigerated preserving solution for ship-ment to New York.

The kidney was put aboard an Aeroflot flight from Moscow to Kennedy Airport, and Dr. Shumakov telephoned Dr. Rubin to let him know it was on its way.

When the kidney arrived on Sunday, it was taken to the New York Blood Center's facility for preserving organs, and tissue samples were taken to be matched with someone on the waiting list for transplants.

Two Hurt In Crash Near Niles

NILES - Two South Bend residents were injured last night when a pickup truck and an auto crashed at the intersec-tion of Bertrand and Orange roads southwest of here, state police at the Niles post said.

Listed in fair condition this morning at Pawating hospital in Niles was Ann Marie Aliman

She was a passenger in the auto driven by Timothy Knight, 20, South Bend. He was treated and released from Pawating, police said.

Police said Knight told troopers he pulled into the path of a truck driven by Gerald Williamson, 39, route I, Kaiser road. Three Oaks, because he thought the intersection was a four-way stop. Police said the truck crashed broadside into the passenger side of Knight's subcompact auto.

Truckers Say State Dragging Feet On Safety Rules

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Trucking Association turned the tables on the state Wednesday, declaring that the Public Service Commission has dragged its feet on truck safety

The trucker association called on Gov. William Milliken to take emergency action to eact safety rules and regulations it said have been pending before the PSC since 1973. The regulations, issued by the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT), already apply to about half the estimated 1,000 large tanker trucks carrying flammable fuels in Michigan, said Jack Landstrom of the truckers'

But the organization and its Tank Truck Carrier Association division said putting the rest of the trucks under the guidelines would "greatly reduce the threat of serious accidents on our highways." The DOT regulations mainly regulate drivers, setting a minimum age and requiring training and experience to drive various types of rigs. The truckers Wednesday suggested some changes to tighten up those proposed requirements.

The truckers, responding to state demands to action after several tanker truck accidents on expressvays, repeated their op-position to the proposed lowering of speed limits for tankers and banning them from expressways at peak traffic hours

They said a new safety hazard would result from tankers driving than other vehicles. They'said temporary bans would put trucks on the road and ultimately drive up costs to the public Milliken and state police have suggested the temporary ban and lowered speed limits. A state police crackdown Tuesday on fuel tanker truck violations turned up 125 safety violations of 28 rigs.

Jack McNamara, executive director of the trucking association, defended its safety record and said truckers pushed a 1973 law giving the PSC power to set-safety rules—and regulation. Some truckers then even supplied typists to harry the regulations along. but the effort apparently got bogged down because of a shortage of manpower, according to Landstrom, a Muskegon trucker.

PSC Chairman Daniel Demlow acknowledged that "our record could have been better" on getting the rules into effect. He said the regulations are now being printed and public hearings will be or-dered shortly.

Demlow added that the regulations mainly set driver qualifications, "and certainly one could argue that the companies have the responsibility to hire qualified drivers. It's not good enough to say 'government didn't make us do it'." The PSC chairman said the delay resulted from manpower problems, including staff illness, and had "nothing to do with a lack of interest" in the problem.

Water Contamination Feared

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) - The water supply for residents in parts of rural Muskegon County is in danger of being contaminated with toxic chemicals, state officials say. The chemicals - dimethyl aniline and ethylene dichloride - can be deadly in high doses, the Department of Natural Resources said Wednesday. They can be toxic to humans even in very small doses. Officials said the chemicals have been discharged into the ground since 1974 by the Story Chemical Co. in Dalton Twp. The chemical company filed for bankruptcy last year, but still operates on a limited basis. Ground water containing the toxic chemicals has been detected up to a half-mile from the Story plant and is reported to be moving at a rate of two to three feet per day toward the wells of nearly 30 homes in the southern portion of the into your fifth tank of oil, or your gas bill is beginning to look like the national debt, you might like to talk with Lewis Lovett of rural Allegan.

Lew and his wife Helen turned off their LP gas furnace in November, 1974, and it hasn't been turned on since.

home modern overlooks Littlejohn Lake, on the southeastern corner of the Allegan State Game area. Westerly winds have a clear lake but even in this year's subzero weather, the Lovett's registered a thermometer register comfortable 68 degrees.

There's no solar unit on the roof or nuclear reactor in the basement. Their secret is far simpler than that. It's in a big. front of their fireplace - a wood stove.

Lew designed and built most of it himself - with help from a local welding shop — after discovering his stone-faced fireplace was not built to ac-Franklin stove.

As long as he was going to all that trouble he decided he'd make the stove a little bigger than a commercial unit and he tossed in some refinements of his own — like a six-step damper he can fine-tune to suit wind and weather conditions and a fire-brick lining for more even heat dispersal.

Of the project, Lew said,

"We were up to our, belt buckles in the energy crisis in the fall of 1974 and the stove project seemed like a patriotic thing to do."

Since then the Lovetts learned it also had a salutary effect on the family budget.

It repaid their original investment of about $125 in the form of fuel savings the very first year... and it was also great for keeping a teakettle at the ready all day long. Lew scrounged an old-time portable oven somewhere which Helen uses quite often. A small table placed next to the stove is also bread dough rise, she adds.

Now for the bad news -When you're heating your house with cord wood you measure fuel costs in dollars and cents but in time and sweat. Lew says he doesn't keep records, but he estimates that 20 cerds of wood a season with maximum consumption this year. That's 3,200 cubic feet of fire wood.

If you lived in a city and were paying the going rate of $40 a cord, the Lovett home heating system wouldn't look like much of a bargain. But if you live on the edge of the Allegan State Game area with its 50,000 acres of wooded land it's no problem.

In the game area, one can cut up to five cords of wood by getting a permit for $15.

Even so, Lovett has found most of his fuel closer to home - trimming out woodlots for neighbors, clearing a spot someone else wanted for a and a new 14-h.p. garden trac-

Veteran Fuentes Signs With Tigers

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) -The Detroit Tigers made a move to solve their second base problem Wednesday by agreeing to a one-year pact with veteran Tito Fuentes for $90,000

The 33-year-old Fuentes, who played out his option with the San Diego Padres last year, agreed to the deal by telegram and was expected at the Tigers spring training camp at Lakeland, Fla., in a day or two, according to Tigers' General Manager Jim Campbell.

No bonus was involved in the deal for the veteran of 11 Major League seasons, Campbell said. Frientes, a native of Cuba, had a career-high batting average of .280 in 1975 at San Diego, bit .263 last season and owns a lifetime batting average of .264 in 1.335

The trademark of Pfeifer's Indians this year has been hustle and desire.

"The kids have put it together," Pfeifer says, "And that's what it takes to be competitive. The hungryness of the kids has been the real key to

'Our top seven or eight players are aggressive in-dividuals. Most of them are football players who play basketball because they enjoy it. We've had to blend the natural football ability with things they can do on the basketball

Both Bednarowski and Pfeifer have stressed team play and that's exactly what they've got-

"When you have five or six guys as close as my top six are." Bednarowski says, "you don't push statistics. You just let them go out and play ball." Pfelfer says of his team, "These kids are competitors.

That's what it boils down to. We're a very small team, so we have to be this way. The kids have earned every victory. We haven't had what I would call an easy game this year. These kids have had to earn everything

One reason for stressing the team concept has been that neither Watervliet nor Hartford has one outstanding individual Both boast four regulars averaging in double figures, Here's today's quickie quiz.

Here's today's quickie quiz, college hoop fans:
Question — Bill Foster (a) will (b) won't be sorry to see Clemson's Wayne — Tree' Hollins finish his career.
Answer — (a). Also (b). Explanation — Duke's Bill Foster will. Clemson's Bill Foster will. Clemson's Bill Foster will. Clemson's Bill Foster won't.
Rollins, a 7-foot1 senior, scored Bi points, grabbed 15 rebounds, blocked 10 shots and made five steals as 19th-ranked Clemson beat Duke 67-63 Wednesday night and reached the nesday night and reached the 20-victory level for the first time

"It's no big secret it was just too much "Tree" Rollins, especially in the second half," said Duke Coach Bill Foster. "When a man gets 10 blocked shots, it also gives you 15 scares. I don't know what more you can expect out of a guy."

By winning, Clemson pulled within one-half game of pacesetting North Carolina and Wake Forest in the torrid Atlantic Coast Conference race. Colon Abraham was the Tigers' high scorer with 20 points, including the first nine, white Jim Spanarkel topped Duke

Clemson had a 13-point lead with 7½ minutes left in the first half but was held to four points

Said Clemson Coach Bill Foster: "It wasn't pretty and we had our chances in the first haif to break it open, but we missed too many free throws and easy shots.

Meanwinte. minth-ranked North Carolina climbed into a tie for the ACC lead with a 90-73 rout of North Carolina State. In the only other game involving a member of The Associated Press Top Twenty, No. 15 Syracuse trounced Niagara 106-82, Elsewhere, Kansas State nailed down its third Big Eight crown in six years with a 68-55 decision over Oklahoma.

Congress Likely To Keep Access To Spy Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despute intense lobbying by President Carter and Vice President Walter F. Mondaic, Congress seems unlikely to make sharp reductions in the munber of commuttees with ac-cess to intelligence secrets

The best prospects for some consolidation of committees with access to secret information appear to be in the House of Representatives.

House Speaker Thomas P.
O'Neill Jr. and Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, chairman of the International Relations Committee expressed quick agreement Wednesday with Carter's aggestion that too many people now too much about U.S. intelligence operations.

At his news conference, the second since he became President, Carter was asked about published reports that the CIA paid millions of dollars over a 20-year period to King Hussem of Jordan Carter declined to comment on the specific allegation but he said CLA covert operations are being reviewed and [] bave not found anything illegal or improper.

The President went on to say he thought there was need for "some degree of secrecy" in the handling of intelligence infor-mation and said he is working closely with congressional leaders to reduce the number of people with access to such material

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawari, charman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, told reporters he doesn't believe it ould be proper to littit access to intelligence secrets to just one Senate and one House committee. Inouve's statements came shortly after his panel had endorsed the nomination of Adm. Stansfield Turner to head

He still behaves the defense budget can be reduced by 85 billion to 87 billion but he would not be pinned down to a specific time period for achieving such a reduction —He will send Congress early next week his proposal for creation of a new Department of Enersy and will probably unveil before a joint session of Congress on April 20. -He is considering askin; Congress to deregulate natural gas prices for a period of from his over-all energy program four to five years "to see how it works out." —His personal preference would be for Canada to remain united "and that there not be a separate Quebee province. But that is a decision for the Canadians to make."

—The United States is working with Great Britain in working with Great Bruano an effort to find basis for a softlement of negotiated settlement of remaining issues blocking peaceful transition to black majority rule in Rhodesia.

-He thinks Secretary of State Cyrus Vance's recent Middle East trip was "very successful." The President plans to meet in Washington with leaders of Israel and the Arab states starting early in March when Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin is due in Washington.

-He personally favors public financing of all federal elections in the same manner used for the 1976 presidential election.

National PTA Panel Is Preparing Action Plan To Curb TV Violence

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — For eight days, in eight cities, the national Parent-Teacher Association has held much-publicized hearings to see how roused the public is against TV violence and its possible effect on kids. The last hearing with nearly 60 speakers, from CBS censor to social scientist to teacher, drew more than 600 persons at one point here Tuesday. Now, Grace Baisinger and her colleagues on the 10-member PTA panel running the hearings will go home to sift through and study the mass of facts, figures, claims and counterclaims they've compiled. From that, says Mrs. Buisinger, a Washington, D.C., housewife who is a first vice president of the PTA, will come a report — she doesn't know when it'll be out — and an "action plan" on ways to curb TV violence.

plan" on ways to curb TV violence.

Could the plan call for a national boycott of shows deemed excessively violent or sponsors who often advertise on such programs? "At this time we wouldn't exclude anything," smiled Mrs. Baisinger, a friendly, middleaged woman whose daughter is grown, whose husband is an attorney for the National Labor Relations Board.

Relations Board.

"During the hearings we had calls for everything from throwing out the TV set to, as the Rev. Jesse Jackson — the Chicago civil rights activist — put it, holding demonstrations if everything else fails. "But as to what actually will be recommended, we'll have to wait for the report."

A preliminary report on the hearings will be given the PTA's annual convention in nearby Anaheim, Calif., on May 15, she added. Mrs. Boisinger, who said she attended all eight of the PTA's hearings, said "what we heard most frequently was, We're fed up with the quality of television — and violence in particular." particular.

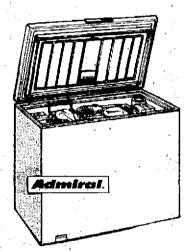

particular."

Okay, the PTA, the American Medical Association, the National Citizens Committee for Broadcasting are among the major groups mobilizing to curb TV violence. But have they the support of average viewers? Mrs. Baisinger said she thinks so, citing the large audiences and wide range of speakers she said have shown up the PTA's eight hearings.

Esch Becomes Lobbyist

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) - Former Michigan Congressman Marvin Esch, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate last fall, will become the Washington lobbyist for U.S. Steel Corp. Esch, who lost his Senate bid to Democrat Donald Riegle of Flint, said he would take over the position from William G. Whyte next month, Whyte is retiring as a U.S. Steel vice president. He is a long-time friend of former President Gerald Ford. Esch said he would have the title of director of federal relations for U.S. Steel. He would not reveal his salary. Esch is the second Michigan congressional who ran for the Senate to accept a lobbying position. Former U.S. Rep. James O'Hara, who

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations for the TOWNSHIP OF HAGAR,

MICHIGAN
The Federal Insurance Administrator, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 P.L. 90-448), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 24 CFR Part 1917, hereby gives notice of the proposed de-terminations of base flood elevations (190-year flood) for Township of Hagar, Michigan.

These base flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

These elevations together Rood with the management required by Section 1910.3 of the program regulations are the minimum that are required.
They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, state or regional entities.

Proposed base flood elevations (100-year flood) are listed below for selected locations. Maps and other information showing the detailed outlines of the flood-prone areas and the proposed base flood elevations are available for review at Town Hall, P. O. Box 78, Riverside, Michigan 49084.

Any person havi knowledge, information, wishing to make a comment baving these determinations should immediately notify Mr. Edward Broderick, Supervisor, Town Hall, P. O. Box 78, Riverside. Michigan 49084. The period for comment will be ninety days following the second publication of this notice in a newspaper of local circulation in the above-named community.

Meany Resents Foreign Actors On Public TV

George Meany has nothing against Shakespeare But he believes that if the British playwright's works are to be shown on public television, the actors should be American.

The Issue is a sample of growing tensions between or-2007ed labor and an institution of which it has long been a supporter — non-comme publicly funded television. пои-соппистена.

At the same time, the unions re questioning a key slice of public television's support— the sponsorship of high quality, primestime programs by major U.S. corporations.

A statement adopted Wednesday by the AFL-CIO Executive Council during its winter meeting expressed cancern that "too little attention has been paid to the influence which corporate sponsors or so-called 'mi-derwriters' wield over the sys-

The conneil also said that since Congress "meant for public broadcasting to en-conrage greater American courage greater American creativity, we are troubled by the steadily increasing use of foreign-produced material which now dominates major prime-time programming."

The dispute began last year after the Corporation for Public Broadcasting decided to spend SE2 million of federal money to produce a series of Shakes-pearean plays entirely in Britain for showing on U.S. public television and later in American Additional funds for the planned 36-part series were to come from Exxon and from Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. Meany, the AFL-CIO's 82-year-old president, protested in a letter last December to CPB Chairman Henry Loomis saying "the decision cannot be justiffed artistically or economically.

there will be no special issues
on the village election ballot.
There are 126 registered

"There are thousands of manuployed American per-formers and craft personnel work of their contemporaries in other countries." Meany said "Highly successful Shakes-pearean productions in the peareur productions in the United States prove there is no artistic deficiency in this country."

The AFL-CIO says it will ask Congress to restrict the way in which corporations can give noney to public TV.

Companies like Mobil Oil and Exon other underwrite the cost of such programs as "Upstairs, Doanstairs" and the "Forsythe Saga," and freely publicize their support. The AFL-ClO contends that these tax-deductible offs amount to tax-nater ble gifts amount to taypayer subsidy of corporate institu-tional advertising.

While these programs are free of commercial messages. other than a statement that they have been underwritten by a guit from a certain company, there are no limitations on companies buying newspaper ads to buying newspaper a promote their programs.

Village's Incumbents Unopposed

GRAND BEACH — Incumbents on the Grand Beach village council will all be unopposed when they seek re-election March 14.

Filing deadline for nominating petitions was Feb. 14, and the only people who filed were incumbent Trustees Harry Wil-dermuth, Chester J. Zwissler and Mrs. Louis Kreici.

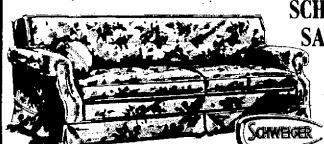

Mrs. Krejci, who also serves as village clerk-treasurer, said on the village election ballot.

There are 126 registered voters in this village located just about a mile from the state
